

Welcome to Inspiring Butterflies 7 Day Journey

Stepping forward in balance and harmony!

Only 1 more day after today! We trust you are still with us and receiving the blessings of this butterfly work.

Today we are focused on the intuitive side of your nature. Many of us have innately relied on intuition throughout history and it has served us well.

We ask that you open and expand your consciousness today to include some time in the realm of imagination and visualization.

If at any time, you have questions, email marge@theawarenessgroup.com or ginny@inspiringbutterflies.com and we will be in touch.

It is through science that we prove, but through intuition that we discover. Henri Poincare

Day 6 - Intuition

Trusting your intuition creates an awakening of inner power.

This butterfly awakens your inner voice and helps you to listen through your sense of knowing.

As your habit of listening to your intuition grows, your own guidance will blossom into a strong power base.

Deep blue also brings to mind the depths of the ocean, and your intuition can be found by tapping deeply within yourself. Once brought to the surface, your thoughts will be crystal clear!

I gain strength by listening to my thoughts and inner guidance.

---

As you go about your day today, carry this butterfly image of intuition, either in your mind's eye or printed out on paper. Picture the color of the midnight sky, the deepest part of the ocean, or the lapis lazuli stone and you will tap into the energy needed to access your intuitive side.

I gain strength by listening to my thoughts and inner guidance.

You may think that powers of intuition are reserved for psychics and mystics but everyone has these abilities. Carl Jung called it synchronicity when two unrelated situations collide. And the more you notice them, the more they occur.

Today, notice when anything synchronistic happens and write it down. Also note some instances from the past when you absolutely knew what was about to happen with no reasonable explanation.

And finally, use your powers of visualization today to call to mind an image of yourself beaming with good health and happiness radiating from your physical body. We think you will surprise yourself with how real this can feel!

And so it is!
Marge and Ginny

